Truck Industry Welcomes Dubbo City Council Plan

The Australian Road Train Association (ARTA) member operators welcome the announcement to develop the new Wheelers Lane – Yarrandale Road intersection to be more ‘truck friendly’.

“This development will make the intersection a lot more safe and more user friendly,” said ARTA Executive Director, John Morris.

“Some operators, especially the low loader industry have a lot of trouble negotiating the high kerb on current intersection, and the proposed developments will resolve this issue.”

ARTA has been central to the development through it’s long-term membership of the Dubbo City Council’s (DCC) Road Train Development Committee.

“The engagement between DCC and the ARTA in representing the transport industry carrying stock and general freight into the Dubbo area has had the direct result of positive developments such as this,

“We thank (DCC’s) Stewart McLeod for headed up this committee, and look forward to a productive future in the ongoing development of Dubbo as one of Australia’s major transport hubs.”
